

Young Waynesboro Pastor Dies Instantly When His Car Rams Parked Truck On U. S. Route 30

The Rev. Henry K. Haines, 27-year-old Evangelical and Reformed pastor from Waynesboro, was killed instantly early this morning when his auto crashed into the rear of a parked truck on the Lincoln highway 12 miles west of here.

The big truck, parked along the highway opposite Flood's tavern, near the Caledonia drive-in theater, was shoved three feet by the force of the impact. The truck was loaded with nearly 13 tons of aluminum bars.

The Haines car was smashed under the rear of the heavy vehicle and nearly an hour was required to remove the lifeless body of the young minister who was enroute home from York where he had been directing a Passion play.

The truck had been parked along the highway 10 minutes earlier by its owner, Charles B. Meminger, 38, Fayetteville R. 1. The car was demolished with a loss of about $1,700 while state police estimated damage to the trailer at $1,000.

Private George J. Evanko of the Gettysburg subdivision of the state police conducted the investigation. No inquest is planned.

Believe He Fell Asleep
The officer said the Rev. Haines presumably fell asleep at the wheel and the auto ran off the side of the road and struck the truck which was completely off the paved portion of the highway. There were no tire marks to indicate the driver had made any effort to stop the machine, which apparently was traveling at a high speed.

The accident occurred at about 12:45 o'clock while the Waynesboro pastor was returning from York where he had begun rehearsals for a passion play which he wrote and first produced last Easter at Waynesboro.

The victim died of a fractured skull, crushed chest, internal injuries and a fracture of the left arm. His body was removed by ambulance to the Chambersburg hospital and from there to the Grove funeral home at Waynesboro.

Was Navy Chaplain
Rev. Haines was pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church in Waynesboro, and also of St. Paul's Harbaugh Evangelical Reformed charge, southeast of Waynesboro.

During World War II he served as a chaplain in the navy and following his discharge was assistant pastor of Zion Evangelical Reformed church, Hagerstown, for some time, later accepting a call to Waynesboro. He was a member of the Waynesboro Rotary club and served as pianist for that organization.

He is survived by his widow and two small children.

C. H. MUSSELMAN CO. GIVES $2,500 FOR RESEARCH IN FRUIT DISEASES

A research grant-in-aid of $2,500 a year for five years for work on fruit diseases has been announced jointly by Dr. Fred H. Lewis, of Pennsylvania State college, and President John A. Hauser, of The C. H. Musselman company of Biglerville, donor of the grant.

In making the announcement, Dr. Lewis expressed his appreciation to the Musselman company and said that "the additional funds will be used through the Fruit Research Laboratory at Arendtsville to expand the work in internal breakdown, bitter pit and similar disease in apples while continuing the present work on concentrate sprays and cherry diseases. We have been concerned about the increase in internal breakdown of various kinds in the variety York Imperial, but have been unable to start any large scale attack on the problem because of lack of funds. This grant-in-aid will allow us to get started on the problem this year."

Will Help Growers

In commenting on the grant-in-aid, President Hauser said, "We recognize the good work being done at the Fruit Research Laboratory and we are glad to help with their important special studies. Control of bitter pit and other symptoms of internal breakdown in apples will mean a good deal to the apple growers in Adams, Franklin and York counties, as well as to apple growers everywhere."

"Such diseases also add to our problems in processing. Scientific research as an aid to the grower and processor needs every encouragement if the fruit of our area is to successfully meet the competition of other sections and other products."

FARMERS WANT U. S. TO CONDUCT DISEASE PROBE

The board of directors of the Adams County Farmers Association Friday night voted to "strongly urge" the federal government to carry out previously announced plans to establish a research laboratory to investigate hoof and mouth disease.

A bill in Congress has "apparently been sidetracked," members of the board said.

In their discussion, the directors, meeting at the Adams Electric Co-operative office, rear of North Stratton street, expressed the fear that the disease, which has been prevalent in Mexico and now has broken out in Canada, may spread to the United States.

Cite Saving of Cattle

Members of the board said that "it may take millions of dollars in research work to find the cause and prevention of hoof and mouth disease, but the cost would be trifling compared to the millions of dollars worth of cattle that would have to be destroyed if the disease spread (Please Turn to Page 2)

Here And There News Collected At Random

With the arrival of spring, husbands who face such seasonal chores as taking down the storm windows, putting up the screens and awnings and shaking rugs out of windows, are warned to approach these tasks cautiously.

The warning comes from safety experts of a life insurance company who point out that falls from windows are responsible for about 500 deaths yearly in the United States.

In the insurance company's experience among millions of industrial policyholders, the statisticians report, about four fifths of all fatal falls from windows occur in the home. The remainder are in such varied places as hospitals, office buildings, department stores, and industrial plants.

To make a ladder handler in the orchard, or for work on poles and tall trees, Successful Farming magazine suggests you install a length of strong chain in place of the top rung of the ladder. The chain will fit snugly against the trunk of the tree so that the ladder will not shift sideways.

Any health authority will tell you that one of the first lessons a child should learn is to wash his hands — and preferably his face, too — before eating. Cleanliness is recognized as the most important weapon in the world for fighting disease. Clean hands don't spread germs. And there's also the personal appearance angle. The time to teach a child that personal cleanliness helps make him attractive to others is as soon as he's able to understand the words.

A warning was issued to motorists today by the Gettysburg Motor club that the deadline for the renewal of motor vehicle registration for the 1952-53 licensing year arrives at midnight, March 31.

"Only a little over a week remains in which to do this."

A sylvan landscape, titled "Sunday Walk," made by David Garfinkle, was chosen as the "print of the year" at the annual dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Photographic society Friday evening at Banker's restaurant. It will be entered in competition in Baltimore and other photographic exhibitions and will be entered in contests conducted annually by photographic magazines.

Another landscape, "The Creeping Dune," by Dr. Francis C. Mason, placed second among approximately 50 photos judged in the "print of the year" contest and an old grassgrown doorway labelled "Welcome?" placed third. It was the work of Philip Tyson.

Honorable mentions went to other prints by Garfinkle, LaVerne Dietz, Dr. Mason, Maurice Stoops and Tyson.

Select Monthly Winners

The judging was done by Nick Ruggieri, art editor for the Harrisburg Patriot and Evening News, who discussed the merits of the top nine prints after making his selections.

In the monthly print show by members of the society, members gave first place to a print by Mr. Tyson, second to an entry by Dr. Mason and third to a Joseph Kendlehart picture. On the vote of guests, the Mason print placed first, Tyson's second and an entry by LaVerne Dietz was third.

Communists Submit Maps Of 5 North Korean Ports Of Entry For Sending Troops, Supplies

Seoul, March 22 (P) — U. S. jet planes—outnumbered 31 to 75—hit three Communist MIGs in a swirling air battle over northwest Korea late Friday, climaxing one of their most successful weeks of the air war, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported today.

After a 30-minute battle high over Sinanju American F-86 Sabre jet pilots claimed one Communist MIG-15—probably destroyed and two others damaged.

During the week ended Friday U. N. pilots destroyed nine Russian-built fighters, probably destroyed three and damaged 26.

Only four planes of the Fifth Air Force were lost—one in air combat, two to Red ground fire and one for an unknown reason.

Action Is Limited

Overcast skies Saturday kept most Allied warplanes on the ground and limited the ground fighting to a few desultory Red probes.

"There were about 19 layers of clouds over North Korea, and a little snow," an air force spokesman said.

F-84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers made a few close support strikes against Red front line positions on the east coast. They destroyed bunkers and trenches and three Red-occupied buildings. F-51 Mustangs of the South Korean air force attacked Red rail lines.

There were some patrol contacts on the central front Friday. Haze and overcast limited fighting on the eastern and western flanks of the 155-mile battlefield.

The Red groups of undetermined strength probed U. N. positions northwest of Chorwon, but the attacks were brief and small.

Carrier-based planes and Allied warships hammered both Korean coasts Friday.

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—The United Truckers association said today a strike against Pennsylvania's 45,000-pound gross weight law was still in effect but police reported no picketing and "absolutely normal" highway conditions.

State police on such key routes as the Pennsylvania turnpike said they could find no cases of picketing. There were no reports of violence throughout the state.

However, a spokesman for the truckers association said "the strike is still on. We have approximately 400 pickets working the western section of the state."

Last night the association claimed from 3,000 to 4,000 trucks were still parked and idle. During yesterday, about 25 trucks stopped traffic on a key road in an outlying section of Philadelphia for nearly two hours. State and local police were called to the scene twice, after which traffic began moving normally once more.

OVER 30 DIE IN PLANE ACCIDENT

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—A Royal Dutch (KLM) airliner crashed and burned in a pine wooded plot in a Frankfurt suburb today, apparently killing between 30 and 42 persons.

Six persons were reported pulled out of the flaming wreckage of the plane by the combined efforts of U. S. Air Force rescue squads from nearby Rhine-Main Air Base and German firemen.

One girl was reported not critically hurt, the others appeared in serious condition. Conflicting reports put the number of persons aboard between 36 and 48.

A U. S. Air Force officer said he had been told the plane carried 38 passengers and a crew of ten. Another report said the plane carried 36 persons, including the crew. KLM headquarters in Amsterdam made no immediate report on the passenger list.

Two of the plane's four engines twisted off and fell into the woods about 150 yards before the plane crashed. Observers believed they might have been sheared off by tree tops as the plane roared toward the ground.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED BY PTA

Robert O. Burkhart was elected president of the Biglerville Parent Teachers association at its meeting Friday evening at the school. He succeeds Dean Asquith in the post. Other officers elected included: vice president, Harold Smallwood; secretary, Mrs. Don Baer, and treasurer, Richard Pink.

J. Willis Beider, Charles L. Yost and Francis Coulson, who were appointed at the last meeting as a committee to study needs of the school, reported two daylight screens and some film were badly needed. The association voted to purchase the screens and film for the school.

Professor Yost introduced Ray Shetter, C. P. Keefer and Arthur Gordon, members of the high school faculty, who conducted a panel discussion on the operation of the high school. Mr. Shetter explained the work of the junior and senior high school students. Mr. Keefer reported on the requirements for entering senior high school and Mr. Gordon spoke on the activities of the school.

During the meeting of the parents and teachers the children were entertained by motion pictures in the school auditorium.

STEEL ASSAILS WSB WAGE PLAN

New York, March 22 (AP)—The steel industry has assailed the Wage Stabilization Board pay-rise recommendations for CIO steelworkers.

In a hot denunciation yesterday of the board's proposal for a basic 17 1/2 cent-an-hour wage raise plus a union shop, the industry said such a wage high would increase prices as much as $12 a ton.

Federal Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam, after a stormy session with top steel executives here, hurriedly put in a call to Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson.

Wilson flew from Washington to New York, met briefly with the steel company leaders, and returned to the nation's capital. There was no immediate comment on the conference.

Later, the industry executives released a strong statement. They attacked the wage proposals which, besides the 17 1/2 cent hourly increase, includes other improvements estimated to be worth an additional five cents an hour. The proposed wage rates, the statement said, would "increase the direct employment costs of the steel companies by about 30 cents per employee hour"—and would cost the industry a billion dollars a year.

SWOYERSVILLE, FARRELL GIVEN FAVORITE RANK

By BEN FRENCH
Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—All-Staters Julius McCoy and Joe Holup are expected to spark Farrell and Swoyersville to victory tonight in Class A regional semi-final clashes in the PIAA Basketball tourney.

Farrell, the defending western champion, is favored over Westmont at Pittsburgh's Pitt Field House while Swoyersville is the choice over Coatesville at the Penn Palestra in Philadelphia.

McCoy, Farrell's 6 feet 1 center, has scored 667 points in 26 games for a 25.6 average. He missed one game because of an injury as the Steelers won 26 of 27 starts. The loss was an upset, 62-51, to Sharon.

Holup, 6 feet 5 center, has scored a shade under 29 points per game while Swoyersville's Sailors won 27 titles and lost only to Allentown, Farrell and Coatesville.

McCoy and Holup were the only two non-graduating players on the first quintet selected last spring by Associated Press sport editors and broadcasters. Each is a strong candidate for the 1952 selections to be released after the Class A State Championship game March 29.

Punxsutawney Halted
Meanwhile the final Class A unbeaten record in Pennsylvania schoolboy basketball came tumbling down last night as Punxsutawney's Chevics suffered their first loss in 21 games to Pittsburgh Westinghouse in a 47-45 overtime thriller at Farrell.

Westinghouse's Charles Robinson saved the game for the District 8 champion with a field goal and foul shot to tie the game at 43-43 at the end of regulation play. Robinson, who was high man with 21 points, also picked up a field goal in the overtime period.

Punxsutawney was hampered in the final minutes by the loss of four of its starting five on fouls. Ralph Yanzzy was high man for the District 9 champions with 14 points.

Westinghouse, which bowed 45-44 to Farrell in last year's Western final, meets the Farrell-Westmont winner at Pittsburgh next Wednesday.

The only unbeaten record remaining intact in the playoffs belongs to Avalon's Panthers, who took their 27th straight victory last night in smothering Shade township 65-29. The WPIAL champions were led by their scoring twins Daniel Tobin and Ronny Mayer with 19 and 17 points respectively.

Avalon meets Slippery Rock of District 9 next Tuesday at Pittsburgh in the Western Class B final. Kutztown, Class B State champion for the past two years, won its 18th consecutive game last night in eliminating Darby of District 1, 34-32. It was Darby's second loss of the season and Kutztown's 27th win against two losses.

Kutztown now meets Shickshinny next Tuesday night in the Eastern finals.

Handzelek Runs Wild
The amazing Jake Handzelek led the Shickshinny Indians to a 55-44 victory over Wellsboro with 32 points. That boosted his season total to 993 and his average for five play-off games to 36 points per game. Jarring Jake scored at his team's 18 points in the first quarter.

Farrell, champion of District 7 (WPIAL), will not be meeting a pushover in Westmont, District 6 titlist. The Hilltoppers have won 23 games while losing only to the Steelers in December as well as Swoyersville and Altoona.

The Hilltoppers have an average of 61.2 points per game to Farrell's 61.7 percentage. The Steelers won their Jochtown War Memorial tourney contest from the Hilltoppers, 58-38.

Westmont will pin its hopes on 6 feet 6 center Bob Sharkey who has scored 556 points for a 21.4 average. Sharkey scored 21 points against Farrell while McCoy picked up 27.

Swoyersville will be seeking revenge for 60-50 decision last month at the hands of the Coatesville Raiders, who posted a 21-3 record including a current winning streak of 12 games. Coatesville's big guns are forward Jim Lopp, who scored 21 points against Chester in the District 1 finals, and ace playmaker Ronnie Brown.

Coatesville will have the advantage of playing four of its recent games on the Palestra floor although the Sailors of Coach Eddie Chiampi held workouts there after eliminating District 4's Williamsport Tuesday night, 48-41.

Diplomat Cagers To Play 20 Games

Lancaster, Pa., March 22 — Franklin and Marshall college has added three new opponents — Muhlenberg, Virginia and City College of New York—to its 1952-53 basketball schedule, and will play 20 games in all next winter, it was announced today by Director of Athletics J. Shober Barr.

In addition to the new foes listed on the 1952-53 card, F&M will again meet the Navy and Hofstra, of New York, and all of its other traditional rivals, such as Gettysburg, Dickinson, Albright, Ursinus, Bucknell, Lehigh, Haverford, Lebanon Valley and Swarthmore.

Baseball Training Camp Briefs

Bradenton, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Max Surkont will pitch for the Boston Braves today as they try to make it two in a row over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Fleet outfielder Sam Jethroe suffered a sprained left wrist yesterday as he crashed into the wall while chasing a fly ball as Boston outlasted the Phils in Clearwater, 13-11. Jethroe's injury is not serious.

Miami, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Left hander Mel Parnell and right hander Ellis Kinder are Manager Lou Boudreau's pitching choices for the Boston Red Sox today as they open a two-game series against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Sockers will be without the services of rookie right hand hurler Ivan Delock. He suffered a thigh muscle pull yesterday before Boston defeated the Athletics 5-3 in West Palm Beach and was ordered back to the Sox' home base at Sarasota.

Los Angeles, March 22 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' long-ball punch—Luke Easter and Al Rosen—shows signs for the first time this spring of having a little steam behind it.

The pair accounted for six of the Tribe's 11 hits yesterday in a 6-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Rosen drove in three runs with a homer, double and single. Easter clubbed two doubles and a single and pushed one marker across.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 22 (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals' manager Eddie Stanky gave his regulars—pretty well worn out from five recent extra-inning affairs—a rest yesterday.

It may have been just a coincidence, but the game listed only an hour and 51 minutes.

The rookie-dotted lineup, which included Earl Weaver at second, Larry Miggins in the outfield, Ed Mickelson at first, Bob Stephenson at short and Fred Hahn and Ralph Beard pitching, turned in an easy 2-0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and veteran Ewell Blackwell.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Manager Billy Meyer is trying to figure out how to get some batting punch in his Pittsburgh Pirates. The Bucs have collected only 10 hits and two runs in their last two exhibitions. Eight of the hits came in yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs. However, only Ralph Kiner's homer accounted for any runs. It was Kiner's first homer during the spring training but Meyer isn't worried about his star as the home run king usually is a slow starter.

Tampa, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Bob Keegan, 30-year-old righthander, is on his way to the New York Yankees' Kansas City farm club today.

Keegan was pounded in his brief trial, yielding eight earned runs and 10 hits in five innings. The Philadelphia Phils nailed him for seven runs in one inning the other day.

WILDCATS LACE LION QUINTET IN NCAA GAME

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sportswriter
Kentucky's basketball team lived up to expectations last night as the NCAA eliminations opened in Raleigh, Chicago, Kansas City and Corvallis.

The mighty Wildcats from the blue grass country, rated the No. 1 team in the country and aiming for their second straight NCAA crown, walloped Penn State, 82 to 54, before 11,000 in Raleigh.

All-America Cliff Hagan led Kentucky with 20 points as the Wildcats romped to their 23rd straight triumph.

St. John's, Illinois, Duquesne, Kansas, St. Louis, Wyoming and Santa Clara kept pace with Kentucky in the first round play. All were favored with the exception of Santa Clara, surprise 68-59 victor over UCLA in the west coast competition at Corvallis.

St. John's Triumphs
St. John's stood off a late North Carolina State rally to beat the Wolfpack, 60-49, in the second game at Raleigh, Illinois, behind 37-36 at halftime, roared back to swamp Dayton, 80-61, in the feature of the twin bill at Chicago before 14,147. Little (5:10) Jim Bredar broke loose in the second half for the Illini to turn a close game into a rout.

Duquesne bounced back from its poor showing in the NIT last week to whip Princeton, 60-49. The debonair Dukes pulled away in the last quarter after the score was tied 39-39.

Kansas, with All-America Clyde Lovellette flipping in 31 points, nipped Texas Christian, 68-64, before 10,500 at Kansas City after St. Louis had whipped New Mexico A&M, 62-53. Lovellette's 31 points tied the NCAA tourney record set by George Glamack of North Carolina in 1941.

Rugged Wyoming successfully stalled the last four minutes to down Oklahoma City, 54-48, before 5,520 at Corvallis following UCLA's unexpected defeat.

Tonight Kentucky meets St. John's; Illinois plays Duquesne; Kansas battles St. Louis and Wyoming tangles with Santa Clara. The four winners will then travel to Seattle for the semi-finals and final next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

San Francisco, March 22 (AP)—The most important news in the Giants camp is the hitting and the all-around fire being exhibited by Hank Thompson, the club's Negro third-baseman who flopped all over the place last season and forced Manager Leo Durocher to bring Bob Thomson in from centerfield to talk up the hole.

Hank at the moment looks very much like the fellow who hammered 20 homers in 1950 and drove across 91 runs and set a new National league double play record for third sackers. He is punching the ball sharply and often and fielding brilliantly again. Durocher doesn't quite know whether to believe his eyes, but he's willing to try. Hank, himself, says it's the McCoy.

"Of course I'm going to come back—all the way," he declares with a big display of white teeth. "That last year is just something you can forget about. I don't know how I could have been that bad. Maybe it was that second-year jinx they talk about, but whatever it was it's gone."

Only 87 Games
Hank, who had played in 148 games the previous season, got into only 87 all last year and was of virtually no help during the Giants' great flag drive. He drove in only 33 runs all told and wound up with a .235 mark. There was a feeling in some quarters that Hank still was celebrating from the previous summer.

"No, I'll swear it wasn't anything like that," he says, soberly. "It just seemed that no matter how hard I worked I couldn't quite get in shape and find my batting eye. But everything has come back this spring and I know I'm going to take that job away from Bob. He would rather be in that outfield, anyway."

At this time there is no crying need for Hank's services at third, but there will be upon the day young Willie Mays is told to return to Alabama and get himself fitted for a free uniform. It will be extremely comforting to Durocher if he knows that on that sad day he can toss Hank into his old spot and send Bobby the Scot out to the open spaces again. It probably is the one thing which could absolutely guarantee the Polo-grounders another league flag.

Convict Captain Of "Substituting" Wife

Indiantown Gap, Pa., March 22 (AP)—A court of two generals and five colonels found Capt. Kemper P. Muench, Jr., Philadelphia, guilty of falsely representing another woman as his wife.

Conviction in the two-day court martial which ended yesterday, brought a reprimand and a $500 fine for Muench.

At the conclusion, the tall, 30-year-old captain commented "I am going to rest."

Muench is due for discharge from the army next Tuesday. He is associated with his father in the real estate business in Philadelphia. The army charged Muench with twice introducing Mrs. Edythe E. Malloy, Philadelphia, as his wife "when in truth and fact the said woman was not the wife of the said captain as he well knew."

Mummasburg

The Mummasburg 4-H club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Musselman for the election of officers and selection of a project for the coming season.

The project selected was "Home-makers' Assistance." Twelve members attended the meeting.

20-FOOT DRIFTS

GIL TURNER IS WINNER BY TKO

New York, March 22 (AP)—A July title fight between undefeated 21-year-old Gil Turner and welter-weight champion Kid Gavilan was in the making today following the Philadelphia sensation's seven round technical knockout of Don Williams last night.

Young Gil, a ball of fire all the way in his Madison Square Garden triumph, said, "I'm ready for Gavilan. Bring him on."

Matchmaker Al Weill of the International Boxing club said he would do what he could about making the title fight.

Garden and TV fans really got an eye-fil in Turver. He froze a little in his Garden and TV debut with Vic Cardell on December 28 although he won by a wide margin. Against Williams, who lost by a shade to Gavilan in Boston last month, Turner wasted no time. He started throwing leather from the opening bell and hardly stopped for a moment.

In the seventh round of the scheduled ten, he belted the slender Worcester, Mass., choir singer with 110 punches by boxing writers' count. At the end of the seventh, Referee Ray Miller called in Dr. Vincent Nardiello for a consultation and then the official stopped the bout. It was listed as a seventh round TKO under New York rules.

Turner weighed 147½ to Williams' 146½. It was his 30th consecutive victory. He has scored 23 knockouts.

Lebanon Valley's Shortage Unexplained

Harrisburg, March 22 (AP)—A reported shortage in the accounts of Lebanon Valley college remained unexplained today despite a meeting of the finance committee of the college's board of trustees.

The Rev. Dr. D. E. Young, superintendent of the eastern Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, which supervises the college, declined to discuss the meeting or to disclose what action, if any, had been taken.

Dr. Frederick K. Miller, president of the college, could not be reached. He and Dr. Young have been the spokesmen for the college in the affair which first was disclosed Wednesday.

Miller said earlier, however, that a group of auditors is checking the books of the college. The audit is expected to be completed early next week.

MacArthur And Companions Elude Japs In Bataan Dash: London, March 21 (AP)—Four high-powered speedboats carried General Douglas MacArthur and 21 companions on their daring dash from the Philippines to Australia, successfully dodging a Japanese destroyer, Reuters reported today from Melbourne.

Details of the spectacular trip were disclosed by Brig. Gen. Hugh J. Casey, who traveled with MacArthur.

The trip occupied two days and ended at an undisclosed island rendezvous, where two big planes were waiting to take the party on to Darwin.

Four Countians Are Married At Double Service: Two Adams county soldiers were principals in a double wedding ceremony performed Saturday afternoon February 28, in Alexandria, Louisiana.

Miss Evelyn D. Whitmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitmore, Table Rock, became the bride of Pvt. Eugene W. Rouzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Rouzer, Guernsey, and Miss Margaret I. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Lincolnway east, was united in marriage with Pvt. Lawrence W. Guise, son of Mrs. Mary Guise, Heidlersburg.

The ceremony was performed in the Redeemer Lutheran church, Alexandria, by the Rev. Paul P. Stueckler.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guise were the attendants.

Brides Announce Marriages: The secret marriages on April 5, 1941, of the Misses Grace A. Strausbaugh and Irene M. Strausbaugh, of Gettysburg R. 2, were announced by the brides.

The ceremonies were performed at St. Mary's Catholic church, Hagerstown, by the Rev. Fr. F. J. Leary in the presence of members of the immediate families. Miss Grace Strausbaugh was wed to E. Glenn Raffensperger, of Biglerville, and Miss Irene Strausbaugh to Harry W. Kuhn, of Bonneauville.

Lower Merion Knocks Gettysburg From Title Play: In a game featured by great defensive work by both teams, Lower Merion high, defending state champions, continued their march toward another state basketball title by defeating Gettysburg high 21-13 Tuesday night on the Lebanon high school floor before a crowd of about 2,500 fans.

In a scoring spree in the second quarter which saw the Ardmore Aces hold a lead of 14-3 at one time put the clincher on the game, the Maroons securing but three field goals, so tight was the Lower Merion defense.

While Lower Merion was easily the best defensive club the Maroons faced all year, with a fair amount of luck, the Gettysburg total would have been much higher. Time and again in the second half the Forney-men solved the Lower Merion defense for comparatively easy shots, only to find the ball roll off the hoop.

A Hero's Welcome (By Vern A. Haugland): Melbourne, Australia, March 21 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur rode triumphantly into Melbourne today and promptly promised the cheering thousands who gave him a hero's welcome that he would do his best to carry the cause of the United Nations to "ultimate success."

"I shall keep a soldier's faith," General MacArthur declared simply in a short speech.

The demonstration for the hero of Bataan, deeply tanned after his days in the Philippines, was one of the greatest in the history of the commonwealth.

"We want to make the cooking school a place where every woman can learn to cook and to serve."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
LIFE WITHOUT GOD

Just imagine for a moment how it would seem to live out a life without ever thinking about how we happened to be born, or about how the universe ever got started, and how everything of beauty and wonder came about. Where would the inspiration for a reverence for life come from? How then could there be any compassion in our minds or hearts for others? What a rudderless existence we would experience!

When I look upon an intricately created machine I want to know who invented it, and who put its parts together to make of it a useful aid to man's happiness. We honor our great inventors and discoverers and pay eternal homage to their skill and contribution to human hope and progress.

Life without a knowledge of God would be meaningless. All about us is the evidence of His handiwork. Our own bodies illustrate His existence. Every insect, animal, bird, tree, flower is an example of His created existence. It's God's universe in which we live, and we are His guests! How happy we should be to acknowledge His hospitality and give out our gratitude for His endless daily blessings.

God is in this world, and He is in each one of us, whether we give credit to the fact or not. God is the perfect host for it's His world, and His eye is upon every created thing, even "the sparrow's fall." He directs His birds in their flight according to the season's call, and in gratitude they fill the air with their songs of joy and thanksgiving.

Life without God is life without hope and without incentive. "In God we trust," say the American coins, and no nation in all history has been so greatly blessed! How truly it can be said that "blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord." And blessed that man, or woman, as well, who puts his or her trust in Him.

Life without God would be a mere existence devoid of the seasoning of courageous strife, faith and the inspiration of a divine purpose.

IDLENESS
It must be dreary with the morn
To wake and have no task to face;
No little burden to be borne;
No need to fill a useful place.

It must be dull, from day to day,
To wake to wonder what to do;
How pass the coming hours away
When you have read the paper through.

Dear Lord, I pray Thee, spare me, please.
The dull monotony of day;
The deadly weariness of ease,
And keep me busy, day by day.

To Crack Down On Red Propaganda

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The State department today threatened more crackdowns on iron curtain embassies and legations in this country which distribute abusive propaganda against the United States.

Department informants said the shutdown yesterday of a magazine published by the Polish embassy was intended partly as a warning to other Red governments.

Behind the American attitude appears the basic policy belief that the maintenance of U.S. diplomatic missions behind the iron curtain is desirable—but not at any price.

Secretary of State Acheson ordered the Polish embassy to cease publishing its magazine, "Poland Today," which comes out every two months, and to issue no more press releases the State department considers improper. In his rebuke to Ambassador Jozef Winiewicz, Acheson indicated further decisive steps would be taken if the order is not followed.

Riding with Russell

Any way you look at it a tight driver is more to be feared than a loose wheel.

Facts About Idling

The evils of idling the engine have been played up to such an extent that many a driver fears he is going to run out of gas when caught in a traffic snarl. Perhaps it would help him to know that while idling is wasteful from the standpoint that it is serving no useful mileage it really consumes far less gas than operation with the car moving. Naturally the engine isn't working when it is idling. Engineers speak of the "idling mileage" and point out that it is about three times that of the actual gas mileage in operation. It wastes more gas to fast idle the engine, but this sort of idling is justified in view of beneficial effect on the battery. During slow idling the battery is always discharging.

Idling should not be indulged in more than is necessary because it is likely to load up the engine with carbon. It also increases crankcase dilution. Often an engine will overheat when idling, force coolant loss out the overflow, and then bring on serious trouble when the car is running.

May Come In Handy

When one of my readers failed to get a normally lean mixture from the carburetor of his car he suspected that the fuel pump's pressure was too high, thus forcing the carburetor needle valve off its seat. But when a check of the pump failed to show anything abnormal he wisely followed the advice of a mechanic who suspected that there was a leaky float in the carburetor. This float was just not buoyant enough to shut off the flow of gasoline. Naturally there was smoking at the exhaust and a lot of stumbling in the engine's operation.

This one is strictly on me, but I think it points a lesson.

Recently I was asked to test two different products. One was a fuel dope. The other an oil additive. It was rather a busy season and each day passed without my being willing to risk having trouble. The car was quite essential at the time and I did not want to find myself having to monkey with the carburetor or change the oil. So time passed and nothing was done about the testing. But the car developed several very puzzling conditions meanwhile. I would surely have suspected the new concoctions had I actually used them. It just made me more conscious than ever before just how our minds can trick us into believing that things do or do not help car operation.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"One form of overheating which bothers too many drivers but which is easy to diagnose is the kind that shows up only when the car is running on the open road. Around town, or during idling, the engine actually cools off. Sounds mysterious, especially since the air draft at speed ought to be quite a cooling factor in itself, but the thing is easy to explain.

"A check will show that there is some restriction in coolant circulation. Either the radiator is partially clogged or the lower hose from the radiator to the block sucks inward. The latter effect is like putting a valve in the hose line and closing it as the car speeds up."

Adjusted To The Wind

It doesn't seem impossible that only a few years ago many motorists wouldn't buy a car with disc wheels because of the widespread belief that on a windy day such equipment made steering difficult. Today all wheels are covered with a metal cover, and even when the covers are removed the large tires and equally large brake drums leave nothing more than a crack for inserting a mud hook for an emergency. Actually disc wheels did have a disturbing effect in a high wind, but improvements in steering have put an end to most of the effect one feels because of air currents striking the front wheels. Then, too, drivers have become accustomed to it. We seldom stop to realize how we adjust to conditions so as not even to notice them.

You May Need It

For that belated snow storm always remember that your chances of getting up an incline in a forward gear are greater than in reverse.

There are three good reasons for this. One is the fact that the engine is geared down most in reverse which means that it is harder to control the amount of power to the rear wheels when backing. Second is the fact that when backing the car's weight tips to the front, thus lightening the driving wheels and robbing them of traction. Third, is the fact that you get a better view when driving forward and can thus avoid slippery ruts.

That speed burns up the tires and pulls the plug on the gas tank everyone knows but there is plenty of proof that it makes other serious inroads on car longevity. The only time I ever caused a timing chain to jump was running too fast in second gear, and the only fuel pump I have had go bad on the road was following a long fast run in hot weather.

Time For Testing

For the benefit of those who this spring will be wondering whether the low compression of the motor is due to leaky valves or worn piston rings here's the answer:

First test the cylinders for compression. Some will probably show up more than ten pounds lower than the others. Next pour a little engine oil into each cylinder and repeat the testing. The oil temporarily seals the rings so that any lowered compression is then due to the valves. If there is improvement in compression the trouble is with the rings. Do not spray in the oil because you do not want any of it to get on the valve seats. It might seal a little there and upset your test.

Up To The Driver

Whether there is any saving in shifting from low to high, skipping second, depends on the driver. If he has to hurry along in low in order to get the car's speed up to a point where it will be ready for high then he will be smarter to go back to the smoother plan of shifting calmly through all three forward gears. When we say that the situation also depends on traffic conditions or the characteristics of the car itself it is still a matter for the driver to decide. Certainly he would not try to skip second when the engine is cold, or if the car is heavily loaded or if the road is not level. He would not skip second if traffic has to move rapidly, for with many cars there isn't sufficient power to try to pick up in high at speeds under 15 miles per hour.

Airing Their Troubles

Q. Is there any reason why oil consumption should improve in an engine, without any motor work on it? F. S. McM.

A. Apparently there is a lot of dilution in the crankcase. You are apt to be misled by the high reading of the dip stick, especially when the car is used almost entirely for city driving. Much of what registers as oil is gasoline, water and other contaminants.

Q. The engine of my car has developed skipping whenever I am headed uphill and driving fast. Ignition has been carefully worked over. The fuel pump's pressure is normal, and we've checked the carburetor. L. L. D.

A. How about checking the tension of valve springs? Looks like you have several weak ones.

Q. A friend of mine tells me that one of his earlier cars he had a de-choker. Was he kidding me? N. N. B.

A. It's a fact. You pulled the button out to choke, pushed it way in to let the pistons suck in additional air through the carburetor. Today we de-choke by opening the throttle wide when cranking. This provides a leaner mixture to help clear the cylinders of an overrich mixture. Be careful not to let the engine race when it fires. Such racing may damage the starter gear.

Q. Why is it that the engine of my car is noisy when it is sort of loafing? I can accelerate it with practically no tappet noise whatever. It also seems to be quiet when I am slowing down. The tappet clearances have been carefully checked. Wm. F.

A. There's wear in the valve mechanism. When the engine is loafing this wear shows up. As soon as part are put under load the slack is taken up and the noises disappear.

Q. On a hard pull there's a heavy knock in the engine of my car. Do you think this indicates a loose flywheel? W. S. S.

A. A loose flywheel knocks when engine speed is suddenly changed. I believe that what you are hearing indicates trouble with the vibration damper at the front end of the crankshaft.

Q. I have an opportunity to pick up some excellent material which could be used to re-upholster my car. The question is: How much material would be needed? T. T. N.

A. For a sedan of medium size approximately 15 square yards of material should do the trick.

Q. Is it much of a job to install a new timing chain in the engine of my car? I understand that the radiator has to come off.

A. That's just part of the job. The front engine support as well as the vibration damper must also be taken off.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

14 TAKE COURSE IN AUTO DRIVING

Fourteen students are enrolled in the Driver Education course being offered this semester at the local high school. They include Kenneth Shanefelter, Kenneth Shanefelter, Larry Sente, Shirley Crouse, Alvina Groft, Diane Cornell, Shirley Sparver, Kenneth Miller, LeRoy Kline, Shirley Wantz, Dean Sell, William Benner, Richard Moore and Mildred Harner. All students who took the course during the first semester have passed their tests. Clayton L. Evans is instructor for the course.

At the high school, the tenth grade agriculture boys and the B section of the junior boys recently made a field trip to the Lancaster Milk company. There they saw milk from the stage when it came into the creamery, was emptied and cooled and then stored. They also saw samples of milk tested for butterfat content. The group was accompanied by the "ag" class adviser, George H. Dittlow.

The Littlestown high school dance band under the direction of Charles E. Tressler has been re-organized for 1952. It consists of eleven members as follows: Nancy Myers, Helen Wintroe, Diane Stambaugh, George Snyder, Carl Wantz, Roland Strevig, Gary Waltman, Richard Selby and Leonard Potter. Lois Peaser is the piano accompanist and Betty Yealy serves as vocalist. The group has recently purchased a new trap drum. The band played for the Junior High Valentine party and expects to have future engagements.

Donate To Drives
The students of the Littlestown high school made donations to the March of Dimes campaign totaling $37.49. Over the noon hour one day the candy cane remained closed and instead of buying candy the girls and boys were asked to make a special donation. An opportunity was also given to the high school students to make a contribution to the Heart fund drive. Special collections were taken in each home room for a total of $27.45.

The weekly meeting of Littlestown Boy Scout Troop No. 84 will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the State bank building. Saturday and Sunday, March 29 and 30, the scouts will participate in an overnight camp at Camp Conewago. At the regular meeting on Wednesday, April 2, a Board of Review will be held. The boys are requested to get all their advancements in to Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe, so he can have them ready for the board. An Appalachian Trail hike will be featured on Saturday and Sunday, April 26 and 27, for Brantsville to the Susquehanna river. Scouts are reminded to get their equipment in readiness for the hike.

Lions' Ladies' Night
Approximately 75 members of the Littlestown Lions club and their ladies were in attendance for the Ladies' Night program held in conjunction with the second March meeting on Thursday evening at Banker's restaurant, Gettysburg. The program included a film entitled "International Lions Club Convention" concerning the 1951 convention in Atlantic City, N. J. Another film showing community scenes in 1941, taken under the sponsorship of the Alpha Fire company, was also shown. Harry W. Badders, secretary of the fire company, and Mrs. Badders were the guests of Wilbur A. Bankert at the meeting. Three vocal selections were offered by the Misses Patricia and Suzanne Long, accompanied on the piano by Miss Diane Stambaugh.

Tickets were distributed for the fifth annual amateur show to be sponsored by the Lions on Thursday, April 17, 8 p.m. in the local high school auditorium. Contestants are needed for the show and they may register with Chester S. Byers at the Littlestown State bank or with Marvin P. Breighner at Marvin's Cut Rate store. The contestants will be divided into two age groups: up and including twelve years and thirteen years and over. Cash prizes totaling $100 will be offered. Wilbur E. Mackley, H. Dean Stover and Stanley D. Bowersox comprise the general committee for the contest.

Concerning an appeal to offer financial aid for the organization of a community Midget Baseball league, the club decided to help the league but no definite amount of contribution was announced. The next meeting of the Lions will be held Thursday, April 3, 7 p.m. at Banker's restaurant, South Queen street. The program will be in charge of the Citizenship and Patriotism committee composed of Harry T. Harner, Elmer W. Gall and Clyde Rohrbach.

The Littlestown Men's chorus will present a concert at Jacksonville EUB church at Walnut Bottom on Sunday evening. The members of the chorus will leave from St. Paul's Lutheran church at 6 o'clock.

The children of the Primary and Junior departments of St. John's Lutheran church Sunday school will have practice for the Easter program on Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the church.
